2. Claims 1-10 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1-3 and 5-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Highland, U.S. Patent No. 6,145,120.

As per claim 1, Highland discloses

Coordinating states of a web site, the states including code which effects the display and actions of the web site (col. 8 line 64 to col. 9 line 10, “...web page HTML and any related JavaScript code 260...when the HTML contains embedded JavaScript code, this is interpreted by the Web Browsers JavaScript Interpreter 214 to perform various actions including modification of the images and the text on the web page and computation of data values for display...”);

Maintaining an environment of the web site, the code of the states having access to the environment (col. 9 lines 13-18, “...the execution of rules can perform...modification of the images and text on the web page...”).

As per claim 2, Highland discloses

The coordinating and maintaining are performed by a state machine, and the state machine interacting with the states (col. 8 line 60-col. 9 line 22 and Fig. 2 “..Java Rule Environment Architecture...”).

As per claim 3, Highland discloses

Maintaining the environment includes creating and managing environment data (Fig. 3 and col. 9 line 41-55).

Claim 5 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 1.

As per claim 6, Highland discloses interacting with the states (Fig. 3 and col. 9 line 41-55, and col. 8 lines 60 to col. 9 line 22).

Claim 7 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 1.

Claim 8 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 2.

Claim 9 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 3.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Highland, U.S. Patent No. 6,145,120.

As per claim 4, Highland discloses supplying environment data to the states and receiving changes to environment data from the states (Fig. 3 and col. 9 line 41-55).

Highland does not explicitly disclose interacting with the states includes receiving indications of success or failure from the states.

Official Notice is taken that indicating whether transmission of data is successful or failure was well known in the art at the time the invention was made.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the teaching of the well known knowledge into the system of Highland to have interacting with the states includes receiving indications of success or failure from the states because one would want to ensure that information are sent successfully.

Claim 10 is rejected for the reason set forth in the rejection of claim 4.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed on 1/26/2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues:

- 1) Highland does not disclose coordinating states of a web site, the state includes code which effects the display and actions of the web site as recited in independent claims 1, 5 and 7.
- 2) Highland does not disclose state machine interacting with the states wherein interacting with the states including receiving indications of success or failure from the states, supplying environmental data to the state and receiving changes to environment data from the states as in claims 4 and 10.

Examiner's response:

- 1) Highland clearly discloses Coordinating states of a web site, the states including code which effects the display and actions of the web site (col. 8 line 64 to col. 9 line 10, "...web page HTML and any related JavaScript code 260... when the HTML contains embedded JavaScript code, this is interpreted by the Web Browsers JavaScript Interpreter 214 to perform various actions including modification of the images and the text on the web page and computation of data values for display...”, note that modification of the images and text on the web page is clearly effecting the display and action of the website).

2) Highland clearly discloses supplying environment data to the states and receiving changes to environment data from the states (Fig. 3 and col. 9 line 41-55, “...its sets the timetag of the object to the current time and initialized the type attributes to the type of the object as indicated at 310...”). Although Highland does not explicitly disclose interacting with the states includes receiving indications of success or failure from the states. Official Notice is taken that indicating whether transmission of data is successful or failure was well known in the art at the time the invention was made. The previous office action pointed out why it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the teaching of the well known knowledge into the system of Highland to have interacting with the states includes receiving indications of success or failure from the states because one would want to ensure that information are sent successfully. Applicant failed to point out the error in the motivation to modify Highland. Therefore, the rejection is proper and is maintained.

Conclusion

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
